

These children are using their Parasympathetic Nervous System to rest and digest. What do you imagine they are thinking and feeling?

